BREMEN MAN HAS HIGH TRAP SCORE

Eddie Gottfried Makes 88
Out of 100 Targets at Tournament at Heath
—Cold Keeps Crowd
Down.

A fair sized crowd was present at the tournament held under the auspices of the Newark Gun Club and C. E. McDaniel at Heath, New Jersey, today. The weather was a little too cold to attract the big crowd of the crowd would have been much larger.

An ox roast prepared by McDaniel was served at 1:30 o'clock until 1:30 and everybody had plenty to eat. Hot coffee and vegetables with cold and ginger bread was also a part of the menu which was greatly relished.

Well known trap shooters from nearby towns were present to participate in the six events of 100 targets, making 88, William Packer of Lancaster was second with 85 and William Spencer of Tarboro, third with 83.

There were quite a number of local shooters present and a number of rifle matches were participated in, the prizes being turkeys, ducks and chickens. All present thoroughly enjoyed the day and another big match is contemplated in the very near future.

INSURANCE MAN DIES

Mont Clair, N. J., Jan. 2. — Elmer E. Rittenhouse, assistant secretary of the Equitable Life Insurance society, and formerly insurance commissioner of Colorado, died at a hospital today as the result of an inner tooth.

200 RADICALS

ter from Mr. Palmer asking him not to proceed with a plan for joint state and federal action against the government and the I. W. W. The attorney general based his request upon the ground that the raids might interfere with government activities, said Mr. Hoynes.

"Apparently Attorney General Palmer and some of his lieutenants are running petty politics with the situation and are pursuing a pussyfoot policy," said Mr. Hoynes's statement.

He also asserted that radicals had been "tipped off" by some employee or attaché of the department of justice.

The prolonged investigation, the county prosecutor said, had revealed that members of radical organizations daily preached the overthrow of the government and that the I. W. W., the Communist party and the Communist Labor party and anarchists and syndicalists had distributed tons of seditious literature.

Chicago, New York, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit and Seattle were the centers of the "criminal conspiracy," the investigation disclosed, he said.

Several women were among those arrested. Search was continued today for William B. Eise, Bill Hayward and general secretary of the I. W. W. and other leaders.

A request that a special grand jury be impeached to investigate activities of "reds" probably will be made within a few days, Mr. Hoynes indicated.

Under the Illinois syndicalist and anti-radical law, enacted at the last session of the legislature, a maximum sentence of ten years imprisonment may be imposed on persons convicted of radical activities.

NEW AUTO TAX LAW IS TESTED

Suit Is Filed in Franklin
County By State Auto Association — Restraining Order Is Issued By Court.

Columbus, Jan. 2.—Suit to test the constitutionality of Ohio's new graduated license law was filed in the Franklin county court today within a few hours after the law had been filed with the secretary of state. A temporary order to restrain the secretary of state from enforcing the law was asked.

The suit was brought by the Ohio State Automobile association. It is expected that the case will be carried to the supreme court.

Should the law be held unconstitutional a new law probably will be enacted it was said. The secretary of state has ruled that 1919 automobile license tags will be good until February 1 and has instructed officials to recognize them.

Figures issued today by Secretary of State Smith show that receipts from automobile license tags for 1919 amounted to $2,592,424.94 as against $2,138,530.00, an increase of $453,894.08.

THE CIRCLE OF PRICES.

Many mechanics say they are not as well off today on wages that may average $6.00 a day, as they used to be when they could earn from $2.50 to $3.00. Yet the men who make that complaint frequently belong to one of the trades that were the first to start the high wages ball rolling, and thus promoted the price raising campaign.

One reason why the present level of prices has proved profitable to very few people, is that as prices go higher, bigger stocks of goods have to be handled, and it takes more capital. The merchant carrying a given volume of goods must have about twice as much capital locked up in the high priced stuff. The manufacturer must pay about double for raw materials and labor.

If it takes $50,000 to buy stock that would have cost but $25,000 five years ago, the merchant or the manufacturer has got to pay interest on $25,000 additional. The interest is one of the expenses of doing business, and is added to the cost of the goods. Also the rate of interest has risen as well as the volume of capital required.

So in this scramble to have wages advanced, prices went up just as fast as wages, and perhaps a little faster. The change could not possibly be even all around. It has left many people sore and disgruntled. But if they attempt to right matters by forcing further wage advances, prices will have to go up still more.

Thus the entire community will keep running around the circle like a puppy chasing its own tail. There is only one way out. That is to accumulate an abundant supply of all kinds of goods so that prices will fall because the supply exceeds the demand.

The bold and fearless politicians are in favor of preserving the right to strike under all conditions, and also in favor of protecting the public against any stoppage of production or tie-up of public service.

GAS BLAST CAUSES FIRST 1920 ALARM

The West Newark fire station and the squad wagon from Central station were called to the residence of E. R. Phillips at 105 Linden avenue, at 8:05 o'clock Thursday night where gas had collected in a chimney and exploded, blowing out the chimney and filling the second stairs rooms with smoke. There was no damage other than that done by flying soot. It was the first fire alarm of the year.

XL.—The Rift in The Lute.

The trio parted in Oakland. Marcia was going to Del Monte and the Bennett's crossed the bay to San Francisco.

"I feel that poor Marcia's in for some sort of disappointment mused Keitha as the ferry put out of her ship into the sparkling waters of San Francisco Bay.

It was still early morning with the sun glinting freshly on the spray cast by the boat. The gulls wheeled gracefully alongside, uttering their weird cries as they skimmed the water on widespread wings. Across the bay lay the city of the Golden Gate, its outlines softened in the iridescent mists of the morning.

Bennett had been pacing the deck of the ferryboat with the enjoyment of a normally active man who has been confined in a coach for the better part of a week. He came to a halt before Keitha, who was looking back to the Oakland wharf with a shadow of anxiety in her eyes.

"Do you know the difference between us, Keitha?" he asked with a smile.

Keitha turned her eyes to him and felt anew the thrill of admiration which the sight of him always afforded her. In the bright morning sunlight he looked unusually big and strong and clean cut.

She smiled in sympathy with his mood which was plainly of the holiday persuasion.

"No. What is the difference between us?"

"Just this," he waved a hand from her to himself, indicating their respective positions. "You look to me like the future, and I am always facing the future."

"That is so," Keitha admitted slowly. "I stride ahead without thought or backward glance, while you dislike to relinquish one single link that binds you to something you have known."

"I think the sole reason that you were willing to marry me was that I was leaving you to old associations."

"But I dislike new things as a general rule," protested Keitha. "Aren't the old things always best?"

"Tallow candles and tin bathtubs, for instance he suggested with a twinkle. "Now you're laughing at me. I am serious."

"But illogical, he laughed; never mind he said.

"You're too pretty to need a logical mind."

"But I have one," insisted Keitha. "It's one of the qualities that my particular work calls for."

He grinned unfeelingly.

"As the boys would say: 'get next to yourself, Keitha. If you would see yourself squarely, you'd discover that you're just a fluffly little girl that's got an absurd idea about a career and you've kidded yourself into believing you're a serious-minded person. At first I thought it was new," he added audaciously, "but now I know you've got yourself hypnotized."

Keitha regarded him curiously.

"Do I honestly give that impression?"

He nodded.

Then, you have a habit of putting a fellow most awfully in the wrong," he conceded.

"I'm sorry," said Keitha quietly. "I'll be more careful in the future."

Suppose You Had No Home But a Wagon No Roof Over Your Head But the Sky

And suppose your wife and children were without food or clothing, were ill and helpless. How would YOU feel? There are thousands of Jewish families in Europe, whose only home is a rude cart open to the snows and rains. They must face the wintry blasts without hope of medical aid, without heat, without shelter, yes, without food, unless the people of America help them. You would not let anyone near at hand suffer such tortures. Surely, the fact that these people with hearts and feelings just like your own, are separated from you, must not lessen your sympathy. There is only one thing you can do to help them. You can but GIVE. This is a trifling sacrifice. Who cannot spare something for those who have nothing at all?

Six Million Human Beings Are Suffering the Tortures of Disease, Hunger and Death in the devastated countries of Poland, Galicia, Rumania, Lithuania and Palestine. The pitiful plight of these poor unfortunates is no fault of theirs—they are the innocent victims of circumstance—a harmless, industrious, and as a rule frugal race of people who have been deprived of all means of support and are now dying by the thousands for want of food and shelter. Americans—red-blooded, charitable, humanitarian Americans of every religion and creed are asked to join with their Jewish brethren in saving these human lives and remedying the horrible conditions that now exist.

Open Your Heart—And Your Pocketbook

Give as much money as you can possibly afford. Remember the most beautiful thing in life is charity—and money is only good for the happiness it buys. What better use could you put your funds to than saving lives, feeding the hungry, clothing the naked and freezing peoples who have suffered the hardships and brutalities of war? Be ready for the solicitor when he comes around to see you this week—open your heart and your pocketbook.

Nazimova.
 "The Red Lantern," the new Metro-Nazimova production, in which the famous Nazimova appears, was the special feature at the Auditorium theater yesterday, where it played to an audience which thoroughly appreciated the rare artistry of the celebrated actress and her play.
 The star was seen in a dual role—as Mable, the Eurasian girl, daughter of a Chinese mother and English father, and as Blanche, her English half-sister. The double role gave the star great opportunity for her unusual power of character delineation.
 The play tells the dramatic story of the daughter of two races—a girl who though born in a coffin shop in the slum of Peking, is educated among the European surroundings and ideals of the Christian Mission, where she adopts the faith of her father.
 How she feels the perpetual conflict of her mixed blood—the seething passions and desires of both races which are forever at war in her soul—is dramatically shown by this unusual actress. She imbues the character with all the inscrutable mystery and passionate fire of the glowing East and at the same time conveys to the beholders the East racial gulf which separates the two girls, who though they possess seen at the Auditorium Wednesday evening, January 7th.

 The story of the comedy has the modern "system of rent" profiteering beaten to a frazzle. A young scapegrace is placed in charge of his uncle's apartments and immediately proceeds to make a little easy money in which act he is ably assisted by the janitor who eventually becomes his partner. The apartments are sublet at high prices to people in different walks of life and there is plenty of opportunity for amusing situations. Herbert Corbell is featured and supported by Barrell Greenwood, William Lennox, Arthur Allen, Florence Brown, Gosman Twins, Dorothy Quinette, Ottilie Corday and a bevy of pretty girls. "Fifty-Fifty" comes to Newark direct from the Comedy Theater, New York.

"Almost a Husband."
 In the days of our parents, Opie Read wrote a book called "Old Ebenezer." It soon proved to be what we now term a "best seller." All the ingredients of popularity were here. The story told the intimate detail in the lives of the simple, honest folk who lived in the town of Old Ebenezer. But what interests Mr. Read's million readers was the fact that these simple lives were complex indeed. The banker of the town was under the dictation of one the same father, are as remote as the poles.

Charlie Chaplin.
 Traffic is tied up for fifteen minutes, one traffic cop is dropped in the sewer, the Mayor and Charlie Chaplin are on the head with a twelve foot dry goods box and Charlie Chaplin is stuck in a pile of hot tar in the opening scenes of "A Day's Pleasure," which is now showing at the Auditorium theater.

This production marks Chaplin's fourth picture of the million dollar class which he is producing for distributor First National Exhibitors' Eastern critics who have seen runs of the production declare embodies the hearty laughs of various First National successes, "Her Arms," "A Dog's Life," and "Side," but in itself the most unified laugh success he has yet produced.

Chaplin surely has the crowds with him, for the Auditorium was crowded all day and the laughs were many that were given in his new comedy, "The Red Lantern" with Nazimova as the star is also shown and will be screened today and tomorrow. The showings are continuous throughout the supper hour.

The Day She Paid.
 The Auditorium will offer a clever Universal special for Sunday in "The Day She Paid" with clever Francelli Billington as the star. This is a highly dramatic ultra modern Fanny Hurst story of models and morals and the past of a model wife.

Far from being doubtful in theme here is a real heart-appeal picture—the same honest old sentiment that moved many, many thousands of people when they read "Oats and The Woman," that remarkable Fanny Hurst story from which this picture was made. A comedy, also Pathé News is promised.

"The Westerners."
 The glamour of movie life exists mostly on the screen. It is best enjoyed in an orchestra chair, after standing a half hour in line. The actual making of the picture is work—work, hard and grinding as bench or counter. Rare moments, however, occur when the tinselled joy grows real.

Such a moment came to "The Westerners" Company, which enacted for the screen Stewart Edward White's famous novel at the Banton studios—a big dance hall scene of early days when a white man, the good, old fashioned waltz of yore, without frills or furbelows. Nowadays, not every one of its richest citizens; his daughter was to be a pawn given in exchange for riches. An old country lawyer proved himself to be just as big a scoundrel as could be found in the most wicked of cities. And the new, basifol school teacher was just the sort of man who would be his honest self, no matter where fame or fortune took him.

The leading character, that of the school teacher, is played by Will Rogers, and the banker's daughter is interrupted by Peggy Wood. This feature shows at the Alhambra today and Saturday.

Admirers of Wanda Hawley, and they are legion, will be delighted to know that this beautiful little golden haired actress appears opposite Bryant Washburn in his new picture, "The Way of a Man With a Maid" and in it Miss Hawley gives a delightful characterization of a pretty and spendthrift little stenographer, who promptly reforms when she learns that the young man who is spending large sums of money on her is going to marry her. As soon as that happens her point of view changes and she remonstrates with him for spending ten dollars for a taxi ride.

"Just think," she says, "that ten dollars would buy a piece of furniture for our house."

"The Way of a Man With a Maid" is a delightful story, refreshingly original and human, and Wanda Hawley and Bryant Washburn, who plays a young notions clerk, and who is in love with the stenographer-heroine, do some excellent acting.

The way of a "Man With a Maid" will be shown at the Alhambra theater next Sunday.

Destiny.
 A gripping story of life as it will be shown at the Alhambra theater next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Dorothy Phillips' latest picture, "Destiny,"

Miss Phillips' first effort since her memorable appearance in "The Heart of Humanity." It is described as an intensely dramatic offering, dealing with modern American life, and leading up to a tremendous climax.

This latest picture was directed by Rollin Sturgeon, who produced "God's Country and the Woman." It is based on a novel by Charles Neville Buck, the famous author and the scenario was written by Elliott J. Clawson. Added features are also announced.

GEM.
"The Clouded Name."
 In the new world picture, "The Clouded Name," which will be shown at the Gem theater today, the demented French-Canadian cook of the lumber camp falls ill and is nursed back to health by Bill, the hero of the play. One night Babes, in one of his violent moods, with a knife glistening in his hand, craftily sneaks upon him. TRAINMEN KILLED
IN FREIGHT WRECK

Bellevue, Jan. 2.—Two Big Four railway trainmen were so badly crushed in a rear end collision here early yesterday that both died in a hospital here last night. They are: Daniel Dugan, conductor, Bellevue; Thomas Latty, brakeman, Lima. They were in the rooms of a freight train pulling into the terminal yards here from Cleveland. A light engine coming up to boost the train into the yards struck the caboose with such force as to crush it. Both men's legs were crushed.

NO ARRESTS MADE ON NEW YEAR'S DAY HERE

Chief Sheridan stated today that there had been no arrests in his department this year and Newark is one of the few cities that had a clean slate to start the New Year off with. Chief Sheridan stated that there had been no misdemeanors reported other than a missing auto belonging to Fries the grocer corner of Ninth and West Church street and which was later discovered just two blocks west where it had evidently been driven by youngsters bent on taking a joy ride.

INVITES ALL TO BE BOY SCOUTS FOR WEEK

With an invitation to every man, woman and child in the United States to adopt for one week the habit of doing a good turn daily, 470,000 members of the Boy Scouts of America are developing plans to make the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the scout movement, the week of February 8 to 14, the most pretentious program of democratic good-feeling and genuine Americanization the nation has witnessed.

Through some channel everyone in the land will be asked to assist this campaign of national unselfishness by pledging themselves to do for the period that marks the Boy Scouts birthday at least one good turn, an act of disinterested kindness, to someone each day.

In every one of 16,000 communities where troops of scouts are organized, programs of definite service and celebration are planned, and it is the hope of scout officials that the response to the invitation to every citizen and every child to do a good turn will be universal as to make every community in the nation feel the definite benefit that will inevitably result from this nation-wide campaign of mutual helpfulness.

Efforts are being made to have every church service for Sunday, February 8, devoted to the doctrine of the good turn, and in co-operation with church officials, good turn services are being planned for churches of all denominations everywhere.

On Sunday evening, February 8, at 8:15, Scouts of every city and village throughout the United States will unite in a renewal of their scout oath, and wherever he may be at that hour and time, every one of the 47,000 members of the Boy Scouts of America will stand at scout salute and take anew his oath to do his best to do his duty to God and his country, and to obey the scout law; to help other people at all times, and to keep himself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

The Boy Scouts of America closes the first decade of its successful boy-building service on February 8th, 1928. Says a statement issued by James E. West, chief scout executive of the National Boy Scout council, "Out of the experiences of years that are past it projects into the future a program of extensive development to reach more boys and of intensive development to better serve every individual registered scout. The national council, to whom is given the nation wide administration of this work is asking for the renewal of the co-operation of every 1919 helper for the bigger piece of work before it in 1929, and the enlistment of another 100,000 volunteer leaders to make possible the extension of scouting's benefits into new fields so that a tremendous proportion of the boyhood of America may be served."

HYPO-COD MADE HUSBAND WELL AND STRONG
Suffered Three Years With Stomach. Now Enjoys Meals.
"My husband, for three years, was bothered with his stomach. He went to see specialists, chiropractors and tried about everything he knew of, without results as far as I can see, but when I saw Earle's Hypo-Cod being advertised down at the local drug store, I thought somehow it was what he needed so I took it and honestly the results have been marvelous. It does what they claim it will for he now has an enormous appetite. Feels better than he has in years and his nerves are so much stronger—he sleeps so much better at night, that I gladly recommend Earle's Hypo-Cod to all," continued this Columbus lady, Mrs. W. Sheffield, 483 Dennison Ave.

When a person's system becomes so rundown they no longer enjoy sleep, meals or work it is time they took a good strengthening up-building tonic. Thousands in addition to druggists and chemists state Earle's Hypo-Cod is the quick acting, most pleasant to take tonic of all. Besides at this time of the year no one should permit the system to remain in a weak condition. It is positively dangerous.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by all good druggists and all leading druggists in nearby towns.
Price $1.25 plus 5c war tax.

SEATS IN DEMAND FOR "FIFTY-FIFTY"

Requests For Reservations Indicate Sell Out For Popular Comedy Under Auspices of American Legion.

Since the announcement in local newspapers that Newark Post, American Legion, was bringing to the Auditorium theater, Wednesday, the New York musical comedy, "Fifty-Fifty," direct from Broadway, there have been many phone calls to the Auditorium, asking for seats to be reserved for this performance.

George M. Fenberg, manager of the Auditorium stated this morning that the demand was unprecedented due to the fact that the show is the big hit of New York city, and also that the American Legion is promoting the performance. Fenberg and the local post are guaranteeing this attraction.

As soon as the announcement was made, Captain John S. Fleck the executive committee of the local post and member of the firm of Fleck and Son, phoned that he would purchase the entire six boxes and distribute them among his associates and business friends.

Members of the American Legion are selling tickets, as is also a number of business houses. Fenberg stated that these tickets could be reserved at the theater Monday.

Officials of the Newark Post American Legion declare that this show is an excellent attraction and that only the usual theater prices for an attraction of this sort will prevail. The legion hopes to add the term of the substantial guarantee, to the treasury, and later when the clubhouse is secured for the returned service men, help purchase the equipment for same.

Friday's Games.
B. & O. vs. American Bottle.
Midland vs. Burke Golf.
The results in Wednesday night's games made no changes in the league standing. The first one was an easy game for the railroaders but the second game proved hot.

The league leaders are all set for their set-to tonight. The long rest of the B. & O. team may show in the team work, while the regular playing of the Bottle Co. will undoubtedly give them the odds in the battle. First place in the league standing is at stake and rosters from both plants will urge their favorites to the last second of play.

Holophane put up a good scrap against the B. & O. squad and were able to tie their own record in scoring. Hagerstrand got 5 of his team's points. Goodwin and Dickerson led the rail men in points with the heroes going to "Dick" as he made all his points in the one half in which he played. Final score: B. & O. 36, Holophane 9.

The second contest last night was hot from the start. In the only part of the game it was a neck and neck race. Slow passing on the part of the Midland guards kept the ball in the Wehrle territory and Mayer and Nolan pulled off the lightning team work that netted them enough points in the first half to win the game. Pregel again led the shoe men in tallying. Final score: Wehrle 23, Midland 11.

High School In Tight Contest
One of the best games of basketball seen in this city this season was played Wednesday night at Hickey hall, following the Industrial league games. The alumni team played the high school variety. Both teams set a hard pace and there were frequent welcome rests during the struggle to allow the players to get their wind. Orr scored the only field goal for his team in the opening half while Wilson dropped in three fouls, just enough to lead the Alumni by one point at the end of the first half. Score—Hi 5, Alumni 4. Orr came back strong in the final period, but Mayer on the Alumni got away too often and talked four times. The battle was far from the last second of play and the game ended with the Alumni leading by two points with a score of 14 to 11.

Beverly Griffith.
In memory of our dear husband and father, Beverly Griffith, who died one year ago today, January 2, 1918. Do not ask us if we miss him. Folks may think the wound is healed. But little do they know the sorrow that lies with our hearts concealed. The month of January again is here. To us the saddest of the year. Because it took our dear husband and father away.
Just one year ago today.
Sad and sudden went by all.
To one so dearly loved by all.
His memory is as dear today.
As it was the day he passed away.
—His Wife and Children.

Boston, Jan. 2.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:
"The usual year end dullness has pervaded the wool trade this week, but prices remain firm. The goods market is well sold ahead and the demand for goods continues fairly keen."
Western operations have been negligible. How far the promise of larger imports of Australian fine wools for account of the British government auctions will affect the contracting of territory wools remains to be seen."

2000 HUNTERS CATCH THREE FOXES THURSDAY

Springfield, Jan. 2.—Three foxes were captured in a big drive held near South Charleston yesterday. Nearly 2000 persons participated, including a number from Columbus, London and Springfield. Governor James M. Cox was also in attendance.

When the party closed in from all sides there were five foxes and about 75 rabbits in the enclosure, but two of the foxes escaped, while about 50 rabbits were killed. Following the chase, one of the foxes was sold to the Charleston company for $150, another to W. E. Toole of South Charleston for $25 and another to A. E. Wildman of Selma for $66. A big ox roast was held later in the afternoon.
